KEYNOTE SPEAKER: W. E. Scott, PHD, MPH, PE - Director, Consulting Services, National Safety Council

At Lunch on Thursday, September 22, 2016

Wes, a retired military officer, has over 30 years-experience in the engineering, environmental, biomedical, industrial hygiene and occupational safety and health fields. He has worked with the US Army, The Army Corps of Engineers, Federal Emergency Management Agency, The Center for Intelligence and Smith Klein Medical Laboratories.

Wes currently serves as the Director of Consulting and Training Services for the National Safety Council and is the lead Subject Matter Expert for workplace safety in the areas of Government, Healthcare, Aviation and Maritime. He oversees NSC consulting and core courses and other occupational training instruction for open enrollment and on-site programs. In addition, he provides technical and curriculum input for the development, implementation and modification of occupational safety and health training programs, services and systems. Wes identifies safety and health needs in the marketplace that can be satisfied with existing consulting/training expertise or recommends consideration for the development of new technical capabilities.
